INTRODUCTION

This abstract bibliography cites recent ERIC documents and journal articles concerned with the education and development of young children in countries other than the United States. Included are research reports, descriptions of programs and services, and government projects and policies relating to children's health, education and welfare. Entries include resumes from Resources in Education (RIE), 1975 through 1978, and citations from Current Index to Journals in Education, 1976 through 1978.

Most ED-numbered documents are available on microfiche and hard (paper) copy from the ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS). Order information is provided at the end of the publication. Journal articles are available only in the journals cited, not through the ERIC system. CIJE provides a list of the complete titles and ordering addresses for all journals indexed.

Alcoholism Foundation of Manitoba: Student Match Program.
Program Review 1976/77.

77 8p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$1.67 Plus Postage.

This paper presents a Canadian program aimed specifically at 7-10 year old children who are not yet heavily or directly involved in the use of solvents or alcohol but, who represent a high-risk group. It taps a valuable community resource (high school students) and operates on a minimal budget. The intention is to provide a stable, ongoing relationship between the child and a high school student, and through this relationship to provide alternatives to potential alcohol and drug abuse.

ED 145 006

Early Education in China and Its Implications in the United States.

Chan, Itty

77 26p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$2.06 Plus Postage.

This paper suggests that the philosophy and practical approach to child rearing in a given society reflect and perpetuate the values of that society. In China, current childhood education practice reflects the philosophy of post-Revolutionary China. Basic features are: the assumption that people are infinitely educable; stress on the centuries-old value of "we the large family"; training for self discipline and responsibility; and a new emphasis on theory and practice, respect for productive work, and learning from real life experiences.

ED 144 704

Early Childhood Care and Education: Objectives and Issues.

Heron, Alastair

77 62p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 Plus Postage. HC not available from EDRS.

This report describes an international study of objectives and issues in early childhood care and education (ECCE). The study was carried out by the Center for Educational Research and Innovation (CERI), to study educational issues of concern to its 24 member countries. The aim of this study was to identify common problems of the member countries and to exchange ideas on possible solutions. The report includes a brief review of current issues in ECCE: the impact of recent research, supply and demand for services, administrative models and current objectives. A detailed study of ECCE services in seven member countries constitutes the main body of the report.

This report reviews current standards for the provision of family and group day care services in Canada in 1976. The first chapters describe the scope of the study and the problems encountered in setting and comparing program standards. The main body of the report surveys program standards in each Canadian province. These reviews focus on specific requirements for staff-child ratios, staff qualifications, physical requirements for group day care facilities, degree of actual compliance with stated standards, and specific legislation and regulations in use.

Bottle Babies: A Guide to the Baby Foods Issue. Revised.

Cottingham, Jane, Comp.

76 51p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$3.50 Plus Postage.

This guide has been compiled in response to the increasing incidence of malnutrition in infants caused by bottle feeding in the Third World. It deals with four major interrelated issues: (1) the prevalence of protein energy malnutrition, (2) the importance of breast milk, (3) exploitation by Western multinational corporations, and (4) the fact that mechanisms for exploitation operate in the West as in the Third World to the particular detriment of both women and children.

The Integration of Migrant Children Into Pre-School Education.

Council for Cultural Cooperation, Strasbourg (France).

Committee for General and Technical Education.

77 46p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$2.06 Plus Postage.

This working paper was prepared by the Council of Europe Programme Adviser for Pre-School Education for a symposium on the "integration of migrant children into pre-school education". The symposium aimed to identify and suggest appropriate pedagogical measures which should be taken to facilitate and improve the integration of migrant children into preschool education. Included are four case studies on aspects of the compensatory role of preschool education. Sections are also included on preschool education in the Netherlands, France, Sweden, and the Federal Republic of Germany. These sections include information on the way preschool education operates, general trends in the respective countries, and government policy, focusing particularly on the problem of migrant children.

ED 139 547

Mother's Teaching Style and Child Memory: A Highland Guatemala Study.

Rogoff, Barbara

77 12p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$1.67 Plus Postage.

In this study the relationship between mother's teaching style (verbal instruction vs. demonstration) and the child's performance on four memory tests was investigated. Mothers' teaching style with 9-year-old children was observed in an induced teaching situation in the home, in a Guatemalan Maya town.

ED 139 496

The Effects of Obstetrical Medication on the Behavior of Israeli Newborn Infants and Some Comparisons with Other Populations.

Horowitz, Frances Degen; And Others

75 48p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 Plus Postage. HC not available from EDRS.

The effects of obstetrical medication on neonatal behavior were studied using a sample of 64 Israeli infants from medicated and non-medicated mothers. Few significant behavioral differences (as measured by the Brazelton Neonatal Behavioral Assessment Scale) were detected in the first month of life, and at 3 months of age there was no difference in performance on the motor and mental scales of the Bayley Scales of Infant Development. Comparative analyses using samples of American and Uruguayan infants and additional data from other studies of American newborns led to the conclusion that light levels of obstetrical medication do not appear to have significant effects on neonatal behavior. It is noted, however, that this conclusion may well be qualified by some initial population differences, by the measurements commonly used in the studies reviewed, and possibly by critical cut-off points dividing the levels of medication that will and will not affect neonatal behavior.

An Evaluation of the French Immersion Program, Kindergarten-Grade Two.
Crawford, Patricia

76 49p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$2.06 Plus Postage.

This paper presents the results of the evaluation of the North York French immersion program at kindergarten, grade 1 and grade 2. The evaluation included the pupils enrolled in the first class established at each grade level, and focussed on the following four questions: (1) Are pupils developing competence in the French language; (2) Is the development of reading and arithmetic skills comparable to that of pupils in an English-only program; (3) Are pupils developing a positive self-image; and (4) Has the development of intellectual and cognitive abilities been hindered as a result of instruction in a second language?

Family Trends in Selected Nonsocialist Countries.

Kenkel, William F.; Benson, Barbara

76 66p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$3.50 Plus Postage.

Changes in marriage and the family from 1950-74 in five nonsocialist countries were explored. The countries selected for the study were Japan, the Netherlands, West Germany, Sweden, and the United States. Most of the data were derived from the United Nations' "Demographic Yearbook" although original sources from the particular countries were consulted.

Familiar and Unfamiliar Peers as "Havens of Security" for Soviet Nursery Children.

Ispa, Jean

77 16p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$1.67 Plus Postage.

This study tested the hypothesis that Soviet day care children (aged 16 to 38 months) derived emotional support from the presence of their group-mates. Children were observed in a strange situation in one of three conditions: with a familiar peer (a group-mate), with an unfamiliar peer (a child from another group), or alone (without a peer). An adult stranger was present during two of the three 4-minute episodes. Results indicated that children with familiar peers were more comfortable than children with unfamiliar peers who, in turn, were more comfortable than children who were alone.

Koppe, Julia

76 43p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 Plus Postage. HC not available from EDRS.

This paper examines a didactic model of teaching-learning which underlies the approach of many teachers and linguists, and proposes an organic interaction model, which recognizes children's individual needs and characteristics, instead. Problems in interpreting tests results in areas of primary or oral language and in the secondary language skills of reading and writing are examined, with particular reference to aboriginal children learning English as a second language.

The Perceived Reality of Television and Aggressive Predispositions
Among Children in Mexico.

Korzenny, Felipe

76 38p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$2.06 Plus Postage.

The purpose of this study was to assess the effectiveness of several independent variables in predicting the perception of television's content as real. The relationship between the perception of television violence as real and aggressive predispositions of young viewers was analyzed. Two hundred seventy-three Mexican children in the third and sixth grades in Mexico City were administered questionnaires testing hypotheses with respect to 11 independent variables as predictors of the perceptions of reality of television.

Child-Care Programs in Nine Countries: A Report Prepared for the OECD Working Party on the Role of Women in the Economy.

Kahn, Alfred J.; Kamerman, Sheila B.

76 87p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$4.67 Plus Postage.

This booklet presents the results of a survey of child care programs in nine countries: Canada, France, The Federal Republic of Germany, Israel, Poland, Sweden, the United Kingdom, the United States, and Yugoslavia. Data (prepared in 1974) was assembled for each of the countries by researchers in that country. Eleven facets of child care programs were evaluated: (1) the structure of child care programs, (2) social and welfare supports for child care arrangements, (3) the size and coverage of child care programs, (4) child care program eligibility and financing, (5) goals and purposes of child care programs, (6) major program forms or models, (7) geographical distribution of facilities, (8) staffing of child care programs, (9) standards for child care programs, (10) research and evaluation, and (11) current issues in child care. Data tables are included.

Social Orientation as Evidenced in Regulatory Appeal Strategies:
A Cross-Cultural Study.

Serfica, Felicissima C.; And Others

75 22p.

EDRS Price MF-$0.83 HC-$1.67 Plus Postage.

The social orientation of 60 American and 60 Philippine mothers representing two levels of social class was assessed through the verbal regulatory appeal strategies which they employed in five hypothetical everyday situations involving their 4-year-old children. Each of the mothers' regulatory phrases was classified as person-oriented (expressing the feelings, thoughts, needs, of a person affected by the child's behavior), or position-oriented (expressing a nonsituation-specific rule of behavior in terms of the position status, or role of the child). Society was found to have a significant effect on mother's use of person-oriented versus position-oriented statements, but its impact varied as a function of the mother's educational level. Situational variations also influenced the adoption of a person versus a position orientation.

THE ERIC SYSTEM AND ERIC/ECE

The Educational Resources Information Center/Early Childhood Education Clearinghouse (ERIC/ECE) is part of a system of 16 clearinghouses sponsored by the National Institute of Education to provide information about current research and developments in the field of education. The clearinghouses, each focusing on a specific area of education (such as early childhood, teacher education, languages and linguistics), are located at universities and other institutions throughout the United States.

Each clearinghouse staff searches systematically to acquire current, significant documents relevant to education. These research studies, conference proceedings, curriculum guides, program descriptions and evaluations, and other publications are abstracted and indexed in Resources in Education (RIE) a monthly journal. RIE is available at libraries, or it may be ordered from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington D.C. 20402. The documents themselves are reproduced on microfiche by the ERIC Document Reproduction Service for distribution to libraries and individuals (see preceding page).

Another ERIC publication is Current Index to Journals in Education (CIJE), a monthly guide to periodical literature which cites articles in more than 700 journals and magazines in the field of education. Most citations include annotations. Articles are indexed in CIJE by subject, author, and journal contents. CIJE is available at libraries or by subscription from Macmillan Information, 909 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10022,

The Early Childhood Education Clearinghouse (ERIC/ECE) publishes topical papers, bibliographies, resource lists, and a newsletter for persons interested in child development, child care and childhood education (for children from birth to age 12). The clearinghouse staff also answers individual information requests and provides computer searches of RIE and CIJE and other data bases. For more information, write ERIC Clearinghouse/Early Childhood Education, University of Illinois, 805 W. Pennsylvania Ave., Urbana, IL 61801.

HOW TO OBTAIN ERIC DOCUMENTS AND JOURNAL ARTICLES

ERIC Documents

Complete copies of most ERIC documents cited here are available in ERIC microfiche collections at approximately 700 libraries in the United States and other countries. For a list of ERIC collections near you, write ERIC/ECE, 805 W. Pennsylvania Ave., Urbana, IL 61801.

ERIC Documents may be ordered in either hard copy (HC), a photocopy of the original, or microfiche (MF), a transparent film card containing up to 98 pages of text. Please include ED number and specify HC or MF. Document prices given in Resources in Education (RIE) are subject to change. The current price schedule is provided below.

MF (number of fiche per ED #): 1-5, $.83; 6, $1.00; 7, $1.16; 8, $1.33; each additional fiche, $.167 (total price should be rounded to nearest cent).

HC (number of pages per ED #): 1-25, $1.67; 26-50, $2.06; 51-75, $3.50; 76-100, $4.67; each additional 25 pages, $1.34.

Prices shown do not include postage, which must be added to all orders. Book rate: 48¢ for first pound (one pound is approximately 75 microfiche or 75 hard copy pages); 18¢ per pound increment over first pound. (First class or air mail postage is available at additional cost.) Send order and check to: ERIC Document Reproduction Service, Computer Microfilm International, P. O. Box 190, Arlington, VA 22210.

Journal Articles

Journals containing the articles cited here are available in many libraries. Libraries which do not own a certain journal can often borrow the journal or obtain a photocopy from another library.

Reprints of most articles may be ordered for $4.00 ($6.00 for articles dated prior to January 1976). Additional copies of the same article are $1.00 each. The scheduled turnaround time is three days and the price includes postage via first class mail. Please include EJ number, author, title of article, name of journal, volume, issue number and date for each article required. Send orders to: Article Copy Service--CIJE, University Microfilms International, 300 North Zeeb Road, Ann Arbor, MI 48106.
